

To my newest fairy friend,

I'm the ORIGINS Tooth Fairy, and I heard you have a loose tooth – how exciting! Every time a child's tooth falls out, it means their big kid teeth are ready to come through. And guess what? Baby teeth are super special. It's all part of growing up, and every tooth has its own special story to tell!

Not many people know, but I LOVE to play scientist and help my friends at ORIGINS make sure that children everywhere are happy and healthy.

That's why I'm kindly asking if I can share your special tooth with my scientist friends at ORIGINS. They're super clever and will gently look at your tooth to learn about the kinds of yummy foods you've been eating, what things your tooth has been around (like air, water, or even tiny bits of nature!), and even how old you were when it was growing - like counting rings on a tree!

By donating your tooth, you're becoming a little hero! You'll be helping scientists learn more about how to keep kids healthy all over the world. Pretty amazing, right?

So, what happens next?

Your grown-up helper (like a parent, grandparent, aunty, or carer) will help you get your tooth ready to go. You can either drop it off to the ORIGINS scientists or post it in a special envelope. And as a big thank you, you'll get a $10 e-voucher once your tooth arrives!

Thank you so much for sharing your magical tooth. I'm so proud of you for helping other children - just like a real-life superhero.

*With sparkles and fairy dust,
The ORIGINS Tooth Fairy*
